

Ambassador Reeker Swears-In Peace Corps Volunteers on Thanksgiving Day

November 25, 2010

Ambassador Reeker swears-in the new Peace Corps volunteers.

On Thanksgiving Day 2010, U.S. Ambassador Philip T. Reeker joined Peace Corps Country Director Stephen Kutzy, Minister of Education Nikola Todorov, Presidential Advisors Luljeta Qufliju and Elizabeta Ivanova and Minister of Local Self-Government Musa Xhaferi for the swearing-in ceremony of the fifteenth set of Peace Corps Volunteers to the Republic of Macedonia.

After giving their oath and an American Thanksgiving feast with their guests, the 37 new volunteers officially began their two-year service assignments, placing them in communities throughout Macedonia. Since 1996, over 200 Peace Corps Volunteers have worked alongside their counterparts in Macedonia.
